Lyrics:
Late one summer I was fly- ing Oh- oh
In my thirti- eth year Pondering the under- lying
Oh- oh Restless atmosphere Your life

F Gm 3fr B^b F Gm 3fr

Turn- ing on a dime

B^b F Gm 3fr B^b

Your life com- ing in- to sight

F Gm 3fr B^b B^b7 3fr F

Additional lyrics:

Walking on a Sunday morning
 I'm in a ghost town
 Too excited now to take a warning
 A tourist looking around

Brought my wife to see my childhood
 But I have never been
 Off to see the smiles that we could
 Do you remember when
 Your life was turning on a dime ?
 Your life was coming into sight ?

Old man told me he was born here
 Several bombings ago
 Took me to a sacred corner
 I snapped a photo

Everyone is on their mission
 Their going somewhere
 Every pilgrim has their vision
 Of what they'll find there
 Your life is turning on a dime
 Your life is coming into sight
